

Renaissance Arlington Capital View Hotel Security Protocol

The Renaissance Arlington Capital View Hotel always has an on-site security department with at least one security officer roving the hotel and will respond immediately if an issue is reported. In the event of an unwanted guest, if guest refuses to leave after ECOS requests, hotel security will ask them to leave, if they refuse, Arlington County Police Department is notified, whereby, they will escort the person from the property after a trespass notice is issued. In addition, the hotel has an evacuation protocol in place in case of an emergency or severe weather situation.
