2026 ECOS Spring Meeting
Environment-Economy Nexus
March 29-April 1
Savannah, Georgia

2026 ECOS Fall Meeting
New Vistas in Environmental Protection
August 30-September 2
Jackson Hole, Wyoming

November 2025

Dear Friend of ECOS:

The Environmental Council of the States (ECOS) is pleased to announce an exciting member meeting lineup for 2026. Join our national nonprofit, nonpartisan association of state and territorial environmental agency leaders as we gather in the East and West. Mark your calendars for our March 29-April 1 Spring Meeting in Savannah, Georgia and August 30-September 2 Fall Meeting in Jackson Hole, Wyoming.

Because ECOS frequently is asked about opportunities to engage, we want to make you aware of sponsorship benefits for these popular gatherings, which now attract more than 300 registrants.

With its iconic Spanish moss and a large swath of freshwater marshland – along with booming tourism and manufacturing and one of the nation’s busiest ports – Savannah serves as a vivid illustration of the coexistence of nature and commerce. Against this backdrop, the Spring Meeting on Environment-Economy Nexus showcases ways to balance environmental protection and economic development. Sessions will center on solutions in wetlands protection, air permitting, PFAS and land cleanup, artificial intelligence (AI), and more. Also sure to make a splash is an interactive Shark Tank on water reuse. The ECOS member agencies in Georgia and South Carolina will jointly host the gathering in a display of regional cooperation.

ECOS then convenes our Fall Meeting on New Vistas in Environmental Protection in Jackson Hole, Wyoming, home to the majestic and inspirational Grand Teton National Park. The meeting will feature state innovation that is yielding favorable results, as well as a Shark Tank on AI uses.
